VOL. XIV--NO. 87. RALEIGH, N. C. WEDNESDAY MORNING DECEMBER 11, 1878. $5.00 PER ANNUM

Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—SENATE.—Mr. Wallace, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill to authorize the exchange of subsidiary coin for trade dollars. Referred to the Committee on Finance. It provides that subsidiary coins of the United States shall be exchangeable for trade dollars, at the rate of one hundred cents for each of said dollars, and they shall forthwith be received into subsidiary coin again, and the gain, if any made, may be used Secretary of the Treasury to pay the expense of sending the subsidiary coin to such persons or banks as may desire the same in exchange for other funds. The coinage of trade dollars shall cease from and after the passage of this act.

SENATE.—The Senate Finance Committee to-day laid aside for the present, the nomination of E. S. Foote to be Superintendent of the Mint in New Orleans. A bill was passed authorizing the appointment of Dr. Dennis L. Powell as Assistant Surgeon in the Navy; such authority being necessary, because of the fact that Powell could not be appointed, though formerly in the United States service, as he had served in the Confederacy. The vote was 39 to 21. During the debate on this bill, Beck gave notice that he would to-morrow introduce a bill to repeal the action of the Revised Statutes providing that no person who has served in the Confederate service shall be appointed in the United States Army.

Morgan, of Alabama, spoke in favor of a bill to regulate the counting of the Presidential vote.

A large number of bills were introduced and referred during the morning hour. Among them were the following: By Mr. Lamar, of Miss., by request, a bill to provide for the education of the blind. Referred to the committee on education and labor. Also, by request, a bill to establish a department of public health. Referred. A select committee was appointed to enquire as to epidemic diseases. By Mr. Booth, of Cal., by request, a bill to confer on the U. S. court of claims jurisdiction over certain Alabama claims. Referred to the committee on the Judiciary. Allison, of Iowa, from the select committee appointed last session to inquire into certain charges against Hon. Stanley Matthews, submitted a resolution requesting the House of Representatives to transmit to the Senate a copy of the testimony of Jas. E. Anderson, relating to the Hon. Stanly Matthews, understood to have been taken before one of the committees of the House of Representatives. Agreed to.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to amend sundry provisions of chapter one, title three of the Revised Statutes of the United States relating to the Presidential elections and to provide for and regulate the counting of votes for President and Vice-President, and a decision of questions arising thereon. Morgan, of Alabama, spoke in favor of the bill.

HOUSE.—The following members were announced by speaker as composing the committee to inquire into the causes of the yellow fever epidemic: Young, Gibson, Goode, Hartridge, Morse, Garfield, Harmer and Chittenden. The speaker announced a number of appointments to fill vacancies on committees. The House then went into Committee of the Whole prager, of Illinois, in the chair, on the Consular and diplomatic appropriation bill.

The House Committee on the Whole on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill, on salaries of ministers to England, France, Germany and Russia, which were reported in the bill at $15,000, was on motion of Mr. Hale, of Maine, and by a vote of 98 to 91, put back at it spresent figure, $17,500. An amendment to the increase of salary of the ministers of Spain, Austria, Italy, Brazil, Mexico, Japan, and China, from $10,000 to $12,000 was defeated, and so was an amendment to insert a provision for ministers to Belgium and the Netherlands.

The House passed the Diplomatic Appropriation bill, after striking out the committee's amendments offered to increase the salaries of ministers to Great Britian, France, Germany, and Russia. This makes four of the general appropriation bills already passed. The President to-day nominated to the Senate Louis Lour, to be Appraiser of Merchandise at New Orleans.

WADE HAMPTON.

His Wounded Leg is Amputated--He is Elected U. S. Senator.

By State Library News.

COLUMBIA, Dec. 10.—Gov. Hampton's wounded leg was amputated today, six inches below the knee. The physicians have contemplated this course some days, but were waiting until his condition would warrant the operation. The immediate friends of Hampton say his condition is now not dangerous. He stood the operation finely, under the influence of chloroform. His system is in a condition to promise hopeful results.

The Legislature to-day elected Hampton U. S. Senator. The vote was taken separately in each House, as required by law. Senators who were present, twenty-nine in all, voted unanimously for Hampton, including Republicans, also Members of the House, with two exceptions. (Miller and Simmons, colored, from Beaufort, who voted for Mackey.) The scene in the House was quite impressive. A letter was read from Hampton, which said he was not a candidate, but that the office was neither to be sought or declined.

Meeting of the Wilmington Bar.

Wilmington Star,

Shortly after the Superior Court convened, yesterday morning, Hon. George Davis suggested to His Honor, Judge McKoy, the propriety of adjourning the Court in order to afford the members of the bar present an opportunity of taking suitable proceedings in regard to the death of the late Hon. Hugh Waddell. The Court was thereupon adjourned, whereupon, on motion of Mr. Davis, Hon. R. S. French was called to the chair, and DuBrutz Cutler, Esq., appointed Secretary. On motion, the Chairman appointed a committee of five members of the bar, viz: M. London, Esq., Hon. Ed. Cantwell, Maj. D. J Devane, Maj C. M. Stedman and Hon. D. K McRae, to draft resolutions touching the death of Mr. Waddell, and to report to an adjourned meeting of the bar, to be held on Friday morning next, at 10 o'clock. On motion, the meeting adjourned to Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Silver in Bulk.

New York Evening Post.

The new vault in the United States sub-treasury, which has been prepared for the storage of silver dollars, is forty eight feet in length, thirty feet in width and twelve feet in heighth. If every available inch should be packed solidly with 412½ grain dollars it would not hold far from forty million dollars. Every one knows that silver is bulky, but few persons are aware how bulky it is. A bag of 1,000 412½ grain dollars weighs 59 3-16 pounds averdupois. Accordingly 100,000 of these dollars weigh not far from three tons. If a merchant or banker having a payment of $30,000 to make is compelled by circumstances to pay with silver dollars he would need a vehicle as strong and as large as an ordinary coal cart (made to carry a ton of coal) to transport them, and if this should be heaped up no more than 32 000 silver dollars could be loaded on it.

The Increase of Wealth in England.

Brooklyn Eagle.

Although it is said that the wealth of Great Britain, as indicated in taxable incomes, has fallen off in the last two years, the increase for a period of twelve years is something remarkable. This is seen in a comparison of the recently published parliamentary return of the values assessed to the income tax for 1876 7 with that of 1864-5. The increase from all sources is from £330,580,729 to £490,844 906, and it is most marked in the assessments on employments and industrial establishments and appliances. At the same time there has been a considerable extension of exemptions and abatement, so that the increase of actual income must be considerably greater than that of the assessments, which is nearly fifty per cent. in twelve years.

Hard to Change.

Wilmington Post.

We are in favor of every reasonable effort to civilize the Indians and teach them to support themselves by the industries common among civilized people, but we think those enthusiasts who expect, by sending Indian children to school a few years, to "mold their plastic minds into sympathy with modern ideas and institutions," are destined to grievous disappointment. It will require many generations of persistent endeavor to so change the nature of the wild, rude tribes—such as the Sioux—that they will be willing to earn their living by the common toil and drudgery of the farm or shop.

Comparisons.

New York Sun.

Last year the Fraudulent Administration of Hayes expended $134,500,000 besides the amount paid for interest on the public debt; or; in other words, it spent $68,200,000 more than Buchanan's administration spent for the same purposes in 1859, including $9,000,000 more for the army, and $3,000,000 more for the navy. The comparison is still worse for Hayes in Buchanan's last year. Hayes expended $74,500 000 more than Buchanan did in 1860, including $16,000,000 more for the army, and $6,000,000 more for the navy!

The Advocate Played Out.

Shupe's Advocate (Fiat), published in New York, has collapsed. The editor blames the press, but, the truth is, the country is becoming disgusted with the first-paper foolery. The Advocate claimed a circulation of half a million; 50,000 copies per week were sent to Massachusetts to influence the election in favor of Ben Butler, but it did not save him.

FINDING OUT GOD.

Mr. Beecher Thinks we Are on the Eve of Great Disclosures.

"I think," said Mr. Beecher Sunday, "that in the present state of knowledge it is impossible to prove the existence of a God by any scientific test, and that is the testimony of the most expert scientists. They admit that there may be, but whether or not there is is not demonstrable by proof. They do not take the right means to discover God. Suppose I were to go off the coast of Maine, where the water is swarming with fish, and putting a potato on my hook, throw it out. I get no bite, and day by day I throw it out and get no bite, and I say, 'There's no fish there.' Men stand throwing their lines into the vast expanse of knowledge: they bait their hook to catch a deity, and fish for years and catch nothing; but 'blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God,' they bait their hooks with sensibilities. There are some who fashion to themselves a conception of God that has some relation to rewards and punishments, and out of that they get a God of fear, but a man who has risen only as high as that has risen only a few steps: he is a slave, driven afield by the whip, not loving virtue but afraid to do evil. One step higher comes the God of conscience; vastly higher comes the God of eternal right and wrong, whose conscience is the law of the universe, and this is about as high as multitudes of men ever get. They are simply religious people; they are not Christians. This, although a step in advance, is not the harvest home. God then comes to many persons as a God of taste, of beauty, grace and joy, and they add this to the conception of the God of fear and conscience. Then at last comes the highest development that has yet been made, and it is realized by those whose natures are sufficiently high to reach the grandest conception—of a God of perfect and universal love. I believe we are standing on the eve of great disclosures, and I rejoice at the spirit of inquiry that is abroad, which will probably result in a higher conception of God than the world has yet known."

The legislature will meet on the 8th of January. There are some questions of importance to the farming interests, that the Patrons of Husbandry, and the agriculturalists of the State, must give their attention to secure the action of our Representatives. We here indicate some of them: A general stock law, giving special consideration to the protection of sheep husbandry. Improve the school law; make it requisite that the previous years poll tax has been paid before a man can exercise a right to vote. This poll tax is the main stay of the school fund, and the educational interests of the State are absolutely necessary to the enlightenment and prosperity of the State. The school law and sheep husbandry are subjects in which Patrons are deeply interested; let the influence of the order be brought to bear to successfully secure them.—Concord Register.

A gentleman came to Catawba Station in this county last week and claimed to be a "special agent of the English government to buy horses to be used in the African war," and circulated the news through the community that he would buy every horse that was fifteen hands high irrespective of its condition or quality otherwise, and for said horse he would pay the sum of $100. Monday morning was the time for all to bring in their stock and receive the stated amount. At an early hour all the tall horses in the neighborhood were trotted into town, but the owners found on arriving that the gentleman with a big roll of "government money" had disappeared—he having crept out the window of his boarding house that morning before day and left for parts unknown. If any of our readers have an old, rawboned horse that is "fifteen hands" high and wish to get $100 for it, just watch out for this "gentleman;" he will be recognized as wearing a white hat and overcoat ditto. We learn that Messrs. John Livingston and Mark Bost have been appointed local agents for Catawba county.—Piedmont Press.

NORTH CAROLINA'S NEEDS.

Foster the Agricultural Interests--Political Considerations Entirely Secondary--What the Farmers will Demand.

Correspondence of the News.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 9, 1878.

I was pleased with the suggestions of your correspondent S. M. S. on the subject of agriculture, in which he appeals to the press and the wise men of the State, to stop the demoralization among the farmers, caused by the hard times. Help in that quarter is just what we need now, and have been needing for lo these many years, and for the lack of which, we, as farmers, and the State generally are suffering untold losses, not only in an agricultural point of view, but in every other branch of industry. It is plain that the agricultural interest of the State would be greatly benefited if the leading men, with the press of the State, could be induced to take an active part in the interest of the farmer, and go to work with half the zeal in that interest that they do in the interest of politics. It is an easy matter to enlist the talent of all our leading men, together with the entire press of the State in a single insignificant political issue, the determination of which does not amount to a row of pins, so far as the commonwealth of North Carolina is concerned. We are constantly told that our leading men are bending all their energies, and making great sacrifices in time and money to build up our shattered fortunes, and make us a prosperous and happy people. That means, when interpreted, politically, not a word is said about agriculture. The whole talk of our leading men, as well as the press (excuse me for saying this) is about the political aspect of the different political parties in the State—of the opposing candidates for office—of who is going to be our next Governor, and of late, more particularly, who is going to be our next United States Senator—Gov. Vance or Mr. Merrimon. That seems to be the all absorbing question just now, and has been discussed by every stump speaker in the State, while column after column has been crowded into the press, until every farmer in the State, from Currituck to Cherokee, is as familiar with the acts and sayings of both these gentlemen as they are with the by-woods of their own children. All this fuss about a favorite candidate and not a single word about agriculture, which to the farmer is of vastly more interest than the election of either of the gentlemen, for they cannot conceive how the election of either Vance or Merrimon will cause the bolls of cotton to grow any larger in Wake, or the ears of corn any longer in Buncombe. In my humble opinion, if the same amount of stump speaking, the same amount of money, and the same amount of press influence, had been brought to bear upon the agricultural interest of North Carolina that has been brought to bear upon the political subject, S. M. S. would have no excuse for saying that the hard times have "demoralized" the farmers of North Carolina. I do not mean by this that we have had too much politics (for politics are necessary in all well regulated governments,) but that we have not had, with it all, enough agriculture, so that we have neglected the important for the minor interest. We have thrown away the substance and have chased a shadow. There can be no reasonable comparison between the two avocations, in a national point of view, where the prosperity and happiness of the people are taken into consideration. If we are ever to grow great, that greatness must spring up in the cotton patch and the meadow and not upon the stump, as a nation of politicians, or in the Legislative halls of the nation, as buncombe orators. Individual greatness may come in this way, but the greatness of our State must come from another source. It must come from the cotton field and the hay mow, from our apple and peach orchards, from the vineyard, from the glowing furnace and the whirring spindles. It must come from a population of laborers, not politicians or professional men. If the rising generation ignore agriculture (as they seem disposed to do,) the sun of our greatness will never shine to gladden the hearts of our posterity, our cities will crumble into dust, the dog-fennel and white daisy will choke the streets of our capitol, while our beautiful and productive farms will fall an easy prey to the wild carrot and sorrell. You may speak and write of the hard times, while our statesmen may devise means and lay plans to better our condition; they may inflate the currency and pass silver bills through Congress and coin money by the millions, times will continue hard until our agricultural interest is properly fostered. This is the high road that leads to greatness, and the sooner our leading men take up the line of march in that direction the sooner will the goal of our prosperity be reached. If our leading men would inform us how to conduct our farms so that our produce when offered in market would bring us more money than the cost of production, they will have accomplished more good for the people at large, than a lifetime spent in discussing this never-ending political subject. Cotton and corn are selling in market now for less than the cost of production, and what is true of cotton and corn is equally true in regard to other farm products. It is enough to demoralize the farmer, to see his summer's labor all gone for less than it has cost him. This being so, the question that naturally arises is, is there a remedy and if so, what is it. There is, in my opinion, a remedy. One of the causes is bad farming, which will never be counteracted until our leading men follow the example set by the British nobility. Years ago English agriculture was then in about the same deplorable condition that ours is in now. The nobility thought, as our leading men seem to think, that the agricultural interest of the country was of a secondary consideration. Very soon they discovered that their estates were becoming worthless, that their revenues were falling off and that the farming classes were becoming dissatisfied and disposed to emigrate. Seeing the evil, they had the good sense to apply the remedy. Wise men were employed and sent out among the farmers to see and report what was needed, the Government took an active interest in the matter and actually assisted the farmers with the means with which to improve their farms. The leading men of the country threw aside their contempt for the farmer and organized themselves into agricultural societies, for the purpose of instructing the farmer upon the best methods of cultivating the soil. The greatest pride of an English nobleman was to have the best cultivated farm in the county, the finest horse, and in fact, the fines and best of everything. What is the result? Why, that England, to-day, is the finest agricultural country on the face of the earth, just what we might be if our leading men would follow the example set by the English people and the English Government. Another cause is bad legislation, or rather, no legislation at all. What has our legislature done for the farmers of North Carolina? One Agricultural Bureau, and that embarrassed for the want of sufficient means to keep it up. The commissioner is a good man and is doing all he can with the limited means allowed him, but his allowance is too small, we farmers want more, and that is not all, we are going to have it, or know the reason why. We are the backbone, so to speak, of the country, we pay the bulk of the taxes that support the Government, and cast 80 votes out of every hundred, so look out, we need legislation and we don't expect to ask in vain. The legislature soon to meet can do much to retrieve our embarrassment by giving us some wholesome legislation, which it is to be trusted they will do.

Mr. Editor, this communication has grown much beyond the length originally contemplated, and I very well know how newspaper men dislike long communications, but I cannot close without making an appeal to you. As an editor of a popular newspaper you have a vast deal of influence in the State In the great political struggle in which we are destined soon to pass, take what cause may seem right and proper, but in your zeal for the triumph of your party and the success of your friends, don't forget that above all, and before all, is the agricultural interest of the State, and try to impress upon the minds of our leading men, that the greatness of North Carolina depends more upon the number of bales of cotton, of bushels of wheat, and tons of hay produced, than on political majorities upon election day. Let us unite our efforts to build up the agricultural interest of North Carolina and in a few short years we will have the satisfaction of seeing our people contented, prosperous and happy. L.

The Country Wants Resumption.

Mobile Register.

The country wants resumption. The Democratic party at the St. Louis Convention denounced the Republican party for not adopting the best measures to bring about that desired result. Let no obstacle be thrown in its way! If there is unity of desire to reach a specie basis there will be no difficulty in reaching it and maintaining it. If there is not enough gold, let a portion of the greenbacks be funded in four per cents. and the ten per cent. prohibition against State banks repealed. We will then have ample currency, based upon solvent securities and convertible into gold and silver. The interest paid upon the funded greenbacks would be more than offset by the saving to the business interest of the country secured by a certain and stable currency.

Progress of Durham.

Hillsboro Recorder.

We observe that the new Baptist Church at Durham is finished, and the new Methodist Church is approaching completion. The tall steeple is lifting itself heavenward, and is a graceful and imposing finish to an other-wise handsome building. We notice also the continued erection of new dwellings; and Durham is daily expanding its proportions. The population now is not far from 4 000.

Applauding Himself.

A good many jokes are told as having been played upon the old philosopher, Franklin. But the best, we think, is the following, in which he is represented as having played a huge joke on himself: When Franklin was Ambassador to France, being at a meeting of a literary society, and not well understanding French when declaimed, he determined to applaud when he saw a lady friend express approval. When they had ceased, a little child who understood French said to Franklin: "Why, you always applauded most when they were praising you!" Franklin laughed heartily, and explained his dilemma.

If cotton is king in the South corn may justly put in a claim to the title in other portions of the country. The amount of corn exported in 1868 was only 7,000,000, while this season the amount will probably reach 85,000,000. The total average this year will probably reach 50,000,000, and the total yield will not be less than 1,500,000. bushels.

Meeting of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education met yesterday morning. Present, Gov. Vance, Auditor Love, Superintendent Scarborough and Treasurer Worth.

President Battle of the University was present by invitation to submit his report of the operations of the University Normal School of 1878. and also his accounts of the Treasurer of the Public Fund and of the money advanced by the Agent, Rev. Dr. Sears, out of the Peabody Fund, for the purpose of aiding teachers to attend the schools.

The report, and that of Secretary Dugger, showing all the details of the operations of the school, were read and ordered to be printed.

The accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the fund were referred for examination to Treasurer Worth and Superintendent Scarborough.

After the adjournment of the Board Messrs. Worth and Scarborough made such examination and found all correct.

The Board of Education express themselves much gratified at the showing the report of President Battle makes in regard to the school. The number of students enrolled was 402. The average daily attendance 329.

The number of instructors, including President Battle, who although not a seacher, gave constant attention to the school, was 13. The number of counties represented was 59, representing all parts of the State, from Ashe and Clay to Perquimans and Hyde. Some forty or fifty educators who did not enroll their names as students, visited the University for the purpose of observing the instructions, etc. So that about four hundred and fifty teachers of the State had direct contact with the school.

Before adjourning, the students of their own accord prepared and signed a memorial, strongly expressing their sense of the value of the normal school and requesting the General Assembly to make it permanent.

A State Teachers' Association was also formed, to advance the interest of education, with provision for county associations. This body appointed a committee to memorialize the General Assembly on the subject of amendments to the school law. The committee are now investigating the subject and will be ready to report by the time the Assembly meets.

Cotton Spindles.

The total cotton spindles in the North are now estimated at about 9,900,000, and in the South at 600,000, or a total in the country of 10,500,000. Of the 68,000,000 spindles employed in the manufacture of cotton in 1876 in the United States half in round numbers 10,000,000, and great Britain 10,000,000.

Wine-Making from Oranges.

Wine-growers in Southern France and Europe are becoming so alarmed at the rapid increase of the phylloxera that they have been experimenting to discover what fruit will yield wine as nearly resembling the product of the vine as possible. Thus far the orange has been found most productive, as four kinds of wine have been obtained from the fruit. The oranges must be gathered before their maturity, as when ripe they are two sweet for use.

Having this day sold our Livery and Omnibus line to O'Kelley & Baker, we will give our personal attention to the sale of horses and mules, and will keep a first class boarding stable. Our stables will be open day and night, and special attention given to transient and monthly bosrders.
Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed heretofore, we trust by strict attention, to merit a continuance of the same in our sale and boarding stables.

YANKEE GIRL'S STRATAGEM.

How a Churlish Father's Will Was Circumvented.

N. Y. Star.

A curious piece of social scandal has just come to light in Norwich, Conn. On February 19 1875, Edwin F. Chase married a Norwich belle, named Mary Maples, a daughter of James Maples, a rich and respectable old resident. Mr. Maples disliked Chase, and when he died, a few years ago, he left a large part of his property to his daughter Mary, with a proviso that it could not be used by her until she obtained a divorce from Chase. About three weeks ago Mrs. Chase applied to the Superior Court here for a divorce on the ground of "intolerable cruelty." Nothing was made known to the general public, and the matter was not even printed on the court docket, a fact which has given rise to much comment. After eight days, Mrs. Chase secured a divorce, and she then made application to the trustees of her estate for its transfer to her, which was done in the same quiet manner. Then Mary turned and endeavored to win back once more the recently divorced husband. Two days later they were re-engaged, and have since been re-married. The case causes much talk, as all the parties move in the best society here.

J. L. Stone, Esq.

Among the pioneer sewing machine men of the State is Mr. J. L. Stone, the general agent for the New Home Sewing Machine, on Fayetteville street. Mr. Stone began the business early in 1870 and has met with a succession of successes ever since. He has sold a great many machines—in all about 1500 amounting to about $100,000. His efforts of late have been devoted entirely to the New Home, one of the best in use—and his success has been quite remarkable, having sold not less than 400 since last March. *

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY,.....DECEMBER 11, 1878

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

The News Building, No. 6. Martin Stree

THE California Republicans are dissatisfied with the lack of interest displayed by the administration in the Chinese question. It was expected that the matter would be strongly presented in the annual message, and they confess to a great disappointment. Telegrams received at Washington give expression to this feeling, and the administration is plainly told that if it cannot do better the Republicans will have small hope of carrying the State next fall. It is expected that Mr. Hayes will yield to the pressure upon him and send in a special message upon the subject.

THE question of the adulteration of sugars is just now receiving much attention. It appears that frauds of this character are systematically practiced, and the householder defrauded everywhere by being deceived into buying an inferior article. This has been so skilfully prepared that the merchants are deceived by it and so dispense it to customers, in most cases in entire ignorance of its components and the degree of its adulteration. The matter will receive the early attention of Congress, and some material changes will be made in the present laws on the subject.

IT will be remembered that last year, just after the labor troubles, some one proposed to remedy the hard times and aid the unemployed laborers of the country by settling them on the government lands in the West. This idea has again been brought before Congress by the Enlistment Labor Association of Washington, which submits a plan for carrying out this scheme. One hundred thousand men are to be summoned by the President and distributed on the public lands in the various States and Territories, furnished with agricultural implements and everything necessary to till the soil. They are to receive the first year the same pay and rations as soldiers, and are to be placed under the same discipline. It is claimed on behalf of this scheme that it will be self supporting in a year, that it will repay the government in a very short time, and finally that it will prevent all Indian raids and depredations in future. This gigantic scheme will be urged before Congress early in the session.

THE Charleston News and Courier offers the Northern Republicans a sort of compromise on the outrage question. Let the question be submitted, it says, to an impartial jury in the United States courts. The machinery of these courts is entirely in the hands of the Republicans; the judges are Radicals; the district attorneys bitter; the marshals only too willing to serve their party. These courts have already arrested a number of persons and are preparing to try them; the accused, on their part, are willing and anxious to be tried. Let the matter then go before a jury, the News proposes, and when these men are acquitted let there be an end forever of this cry of Southern outrages. After having been tried once before a Federal court, the injustice of a second trial before the bar of Northern public opinion will be manifest. It is hardly probable, however, that the Republicans will agree to any such terms as these, which would take from them their sole remaining issue, their only war cry.

The Coming Prosperity.

The times seem to have much of gloom, but to the eyes of the most experienced financiers there appears in the near future brighter, more prosperous days. Referring to time past and to come in National progress the Philadelphia Times says:

The halt called in national, State, municipal, corporation and individual extravagance by the financial revulsion of 1873 was a timely one. Every day that it might have continued thereafter would have but added to the severity of the reckoning. Unhealthy inflation and fictitious prosperity had carried government and society into profligacy, and the returning tide has left its track strewn with countless financial wrecks. As in all nations of the past, profligacy among the people found its way into every department of the government, and what should have been a liberal and judicious system of public improvements, was prostituted to monstrous jobbery and oppression. We have had shameless abuse of the generous favor of the government in the construction of the greatly needed transcontinental highways, and persistent frauds practiced upon both the treasury and trade by those who bring the perverted gifts of the people into the lobby to maintain the most oppressive exactions from the industry and thrift of the country.

The nation must obey the lessons of the revulsion from unhealthy stimulus through broken individual fortunes and diminished public revenues to actual values; but it must not, cannot stand still. It must be progressive in all that enhances the growth and prosperity of a great people. It has vast Territories to bring within the reach of surplus labor; it has millions of acres of lands which are needed for the homes of the idle in the East: it has hostile savages to subdue or civilize by the advance of prosperous industry; it has great highways to construct to give peace to the Indian countries, protection to settlers and save the millions wasted in need less wars; it has languishing trade to revive; general distrust to dissipate; idle industries to employ, and it has a grand highway across the continent, the creature of its own bounty, to wrest from the greed of lobbyists and lawlessness, and invite commercial exchange and travel between the eastern and western seas by crushing the defiant monopoly that makes government and people pay enormous tribute to its treasury.

The nation is about to emerge from half a decade of the most distressing prostration, and it needs a sound, honest, progressive policy. The great demand of the day is broad-guage, courageous faithful statesmen, who will advance to meet the pressing necessities of to-day. The statesman of the future will be the leader who comes to the front and demands that the government shall recall its millions of unsettled land from corporations; discard speculators and speculation; construct the two unfinished transcontinental highways practically and solely in the interest of the government; end Indian wars, offer the reclaimed lands as homes to the unemployed labor of the East; cheapen the rates of trade and travel and thus develop the untold wealth of the West to give prosperity to all sections and all classes of people. The two unfinished Pacific Railways have vast land-grants from the government, from which the people are excluded under the homestead laws; and the corporations are unable, in the present financial depression, to dispose of the lands or build their railways. The lands are useless, first because not open to preemption and next because not accessible; laborers in the East are suffering for the necessities of life, while the rich soil, mines, forests and streams of the West would give them plenty in return for their efforts. This issue is the overshadowing issue to-day, and shivering law-makers who are by courtesy called statesmen, will soon learn that wise progress and just liberality are the parents of both public economy and prosperity.

Gov. Bishop, of Ohio, is very weary of hearing and determining applications for pardons, and wants a board created to take charge of that business.

VEGETINE

WILL CURE CANCER!

PROOF! PROOF!! PROOF!!!

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:—

Dear Sir,—About two years ago, a Cancer made its appearance on my face, left side of my nose. When I first noticed it, twas about the size of a pinhead, very small. It increased in size, and spread on my face until it became as large as a common cent. I tried all kinds of remedies, and advice from a physician. It was spreading, and eating into my flesh very fast. I was very much alarmed. I went to see a physician who cured Cancers; he did not give me much encouragement. It pained me very much; I suffered night and day. It would bleed at times very profusely. Everything was done that could be to try to cure the cancer. My brother had a cancer on his lip; he submitted to an operation, being well discouraged I was one day in Mr. Woodberry's apothecary store, of this town. He gave me your pamphlet, containing many cures by the use of Vegetine. I found on page 19 where Vegetine had cured a cancer on a lady's nose. I then bought a bottle of your Vegetine, and it proved a great blessing to me; I could see good effects from it right away. After taking three bottles, it stopped the spreading of the cancer about the nose; it checked the eating into my flesh. I could see it was gradually healing. I kept on taking Vegetine, the cancer slowly disappearing, until I had taken sixteen bottles and it completely cured it. It has left a large scar on one side of my nose; and I feel it my duty to recommend Vegetine to all like sufferers, as it is certainly a great "Blood purifier." I am now sixty-three years of age, and Vegetine has greatly improved my general health.

Yours most respectfully,

WM. P. CLEAVES,

34 Federal St., Beverly, Mass.

We, whose names are annexed, can testify to the above, as Mr. Cleaves is an old resident of this town.

VEGETINE—For eradicating all impurities of the blood from the system, it has no equal. It has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Vegetine

CURED AFTER 20 YEARS SUFFERING.

READVILLE, MASS., Feb. 18, 1872.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to give in my testimony to the good effect the Vegetine has had on me. I have been troubled for twenty years with an eating Ulcer on my shin-bone. During that time I have tried many remedies, but have not had it cured till now, some three months ago it was very bad so that the flesh was eaten into the bone, from a place as large as the palm of your hand. I was recommended by Mr. Tilton to try your Vegetine, and I did so. In taking the first bottle, it commenced to heal; and I have only five bottles, and it is all healed nicely, and I would cheerfully recommend it to all alike afflicted.

Respectfully yours,

WILSON SEARS.

Vegetine thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.

Vegetine

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

CINCINNATI, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine in my family, and know it to be, and can recommend it as a good purifier and cleanser of the blood. I have used several bottles; it is a valuable medicine.

Respectfully,

D. B. TEBBITT, Grocer,

N. E. Cor. Main and Franklin Sts.

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily), that Vegetine is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities, or poisonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed is cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.

DIAMONDS

IN SOLID GOLD MOUNTINGS.

ONE DOLLAR THE WONDERFUL LEFEVRE TRADE MARK PATD. DIAMONDS ONE DOLLAR

Lefevre Ring, $1. Set of Studs, $1. The Shirt Stud, $1. Lefevre Ear Drops, $1.

THE ONLY PERFECT FAC-SIMILE OF THE REAL DIAMOND IN THE WORLD.

Pronounced by the Academy of France that M. Lefevre has really obtained artificially the true diamond. The basis of these gems are pure crystals found in the Sierra Nevadas, from whence they are exported to the Lefevre Laboratory in Paris, France, where they are submitted to a chemical and voltaic process,

BY WHICH THEIR SURFACES ARE COVERED WITH A COATING OF PURE DIAMONDS, imparting to them all the BRILLIANCY, HARDNESS, and refractive qualities of the natural diamond, and making them as desirable for Wear, Brilliancy, and Beauty, as the veritable gems themselves. The Ring, Studs, and Ear Drops, as displayed in this announcement, are accurate engravings of SOLID GOLD MOUNTINGS, CONTAINING THE WONDERFUL LEFEVRE DIAMOND, warranted by certificate U. S. Mint assay.

ON RECEIPT OF ONE DOLLAR we will send free, by REGISTERED MAIL, to any address in America, either article as above represented. Our "Book on Diamonds," with illustrations of artistic Diamond Jewelry in solid (14 k.) gold, mailed free.

I have seen many imitations of diamonds, but never any that could equal the Lefevre Brilliant.—M. ELLROY, Stamford, Conn.

I am in receipt of a pair of the Wonderful Lefevre Ear Drops, for one dollar, to say that I am pleased with them hardly tells the bill, they are simply elegant.—ANDREW MORRIS, Hornellsville, N. Y.

The Wonderful Lefevre Diamond Ring, for one dollar, came to hand this morning. It is really elegant, giving entire satisfaction, and eliciting wonder and admiration from all who see it.—W. H. REEDY, Martinsburg, W. Va.

The Lefevre Diamonds, mounted in solid gold, are truly marvelous.—R. F. AVERY & SONS, Home and Farm, Louisville, Ky.

The eminently successful experiments of M. Lefevre silences all doubt of the artificial reproduction of the true diamond.—M. DU FRENOY, the great French Scientist.

The Lefevre Diamond most effectually disturbs the slumbers of the possessors of costly gems.—Journal of Science.

We guarantee the Wonderful Lefevre Diamonds for One Dollar to be mounted in Solid Gold, and will cheerfully refund the money if found unsatisfactory. Address all orders to the

DAILY NEWS

Widows' Wicked Ways.

Washington Gazette.

The marriageable widow passes through two distinct periods: The first period is a time of thick veils, much crape, and close seclusion. This, however, being irksome as well as expensive, doesn't last longer than is conventionally necessary, when it yields to the widow's cap-period. This is an eminently interesting epoch. Just a soupçon of sadness lingers in the fair face enough to interest without depressing the sympathetic observer. The dainty cache-peigne, too, that does duty as a cap, lends a piquancy and jauntiness to gently receding grief that is really almost enjoyable. Add to these, eyes sayly cast down or demurely averted, and we wager without misgiving that any latent germs of poesy and sentiment in the average bachelor's composition will be quickened into active operation. And now the marriageable widow begins to look about her, and to feel a little frisky. Her heart, of course, is buried never to be resurrected—never! But, then, she sensibly argue that what is left of her might as well be made as comfortable as is practically possible. Among other comforts, she furtively admits that beaux to a limited extent are not undesirable. Beaux, mind you—not lovers. Lovers are things of the past—mere memories of bygone, brighter days. No! no! what has a buried heart to do with lovers? Let us, too erase the word beaux as being associated in the feminine mind with lovers, and substitute friends instead—friends of the masculine gender! These friends are apt to be of two sorts to-wit—men of ripe years and substantial means, and young sparks not past the raw and verdant stage of early manhood. The effect produced by the marriageable widow upon the first mentioned of these specimens is marvelous, not to say miraculous. Under her magnetic influence an elderly settled gentleman, well up in the forties, turns out afresh. His dress, hitherto neat and comfortable, suitable and becoming, undergoes a startling renovation. Coats cut after the latest and most stylish fashion, neckties of nobby set and rainbow tint, boots that fit his feet like a kid glove and cramp his corns like a vice, and stove pipe hats as shiny as a patent lo-comotive-reflector, transform a middle aged gentleman into a passe dandy. Nor is this all. His evenings—once cosily spent in easy-chair, dressing gown and slippers—are now passed in our widow's parlor, or in attendance at concerts, lectures, charity fairs and other mild amusements, suited to moderated grief. Then, in due time, the marriageable widow suddenly throws off her weeds and completes the metamorphosis by changing herself into a bride, and our elderly bachelor into a presumably triumphant—and, alas! we fear, too, sometimes a repentant—bridegroom! As for the young spark, he is invariably victimized, being remorselessly utilized as a cheap and convenient equis de place.

Shrewd Old Ben.

Chicago Times.

Ben Butler commenced his career as a diplomat and an artful dodger at an early age. While attending college at Waterville, Me., he became engaged to an estimable young lady there, but, desiring for some reason to sever the engagement, the prospective reformer adopted a novel plan to accomplish his purpose. The family of the young lady were prominent in the temperance cause, and sternly arrayed against the flowing bowl. Wishing to shock their sensibilities in the highest degree, Ben indulged in a bogus drunk, swaggering around town in the most rowdy-like fashion, and conducting himself in a manner that made the veritable and most accomplished bummers envious. He finally rolled an inoffensive citizen into a ditch and was promptly waltzed off to a caboose. He chuckled heartily over his strategy, counting his disgrace as nothing. His affianced was overwhelmed by his downfall, and dispatched a note to him releasing him from his engagement, while her father requested him never to darken his doorway again. Ben, appropriately called the "Beast," was jubilant, and, gleefully paying his fine, he emerged from the police court with a proud and victorious tread, a free man, prepared to browse in pastures new. This true story Ben gloated over to a college classmate, from whom it has come to the Times' correspondent. The fortunate young lady afterward married happily, and to this day recoils when she thinks of her narrow escape.

Diphtheria and its Causes.

Diphtheria has become one of the most malignant and fatal diseases of this country. When it once enters a family of children, all are subject to it. In many instances it has carried off every child in the family. It is, however, one of those maladies that may be prevented with proper care. The following facts are of importance to all the readers of this journal, and especially to parents: 1. No case of diphtheria occurs without an adequate cause. This is self-evident. 2. The cause of nearly all cases of the disease exists in the house or premises, or within a few feet of the houses where the cases occur. 3. The cause of nearly all the cases that occur in the city is breathing impure air from privy vaults, or sink-drains or cesspools, or drinking impure water. These observations are applicable to all cases, whether in the tenements of the poor or in the mansions of the rich.

Reducing the Army.

A number of important and thoroughly radical changes are embodied in the report of the joint committee on reorganization of the army. This force is to be limited to 20,000 enlisted men, the ordnance corps is to be consolidated with the artillery, and the regimental organizations changed to batteries. But the change which will occasion most surprise is a provision for interchangability of duties of line and staff officers. This is the European plan now in vogue, and is urged by many high authorities in military affairs.

Encouraging.

The New York Herald has an exhaustive report on the commercial and financial condition of the Southern States, from which it appears there has been vast improvement there in recent years. Georgia is particularly referred to as the pattern State of the South in enterprise and improvement, because it is in Georgia where the crops have been most diversified and manufactures introduced, and this example, the Herald says, the neighboring States are following with varying degrees of success.

—Some one who has attended a hanging and heard the usual talk of the gallows birds about the "Sweet By and By," says: Nearly every murderer who is hung now says he's going to meet his friends in heaven. If such is to be the case, we angels will have to go around with a navy revolver and bowie knife under each wing."

A BRIEF HISTORY:

The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and not an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs Person's father. Mrs. Person lives in Franklinton, or in that section. A child was torn to Mrs. Person, and it had the Scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whiskey, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a check for twenty-five dollars and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Bless these old Indians. We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

UNEQUALLED AS A BLOOD PURIFIER.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son, who was troubled with 27 running sores, some of them quite large, and of a scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your remedy, he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite sound and healthy. As a TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain, Very respectfully,

L. J. STOKES.

AS A TONIC AND ALTERATIVE

MOORESVILLE, IREDELL Co., N. C.

Being desirous of adding my testimonials to others, concerning the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy for Scrofula, I take pleasure in saying that as a tonic and alterative I do not think it has an equal. I have family tested it, and after trying Vegetine, Sarsaparilla, Vinegar Bitters, and various other remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it far superior to any TONIC I have ever used. When I commenced using Mrs. Person's Remedy I was very weak, complexion sallow, and now I am WELL,

Respectfully your friend,

MRS. H. T. BROWN.

THREE CHILDREN IN THREE WEEKS.

CASTALIA, N. C.

MRS JOE PERSON:

Dear Madame—Your letter has been received, and on account of being absent from home for a week or two, have not had the opportunity to answer it. I certainly will take great pleasure in doing all that is within my power towards getting you patients for treatment of Scrofula. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for curing my three little children. They took medicine from my family physician for about two years, with scarcely any relief at all. I tried your remedy, and in less than three weeks they were all perfectly cured, and have never shown any sign of breaking out again. I feel very thankful to you. I can safely say that I believe your remedy to be a certain cure for Scrofula. If I can ever be of any service to you in any way, I want you to be sure and call on me. Yours truly,

WM. H. ARRINGTON.

"It will Cure if Fairly Tested."

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After I returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice.

I am, respectfully,

JAMES A. MORRIS.

KITTRELLS, N. C.

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction, while my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood and proclivity for other diseases.

A CASE OF CANCER.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

Dear Madam—I have been using your Remedy for scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years. It has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine seemed to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.

For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart an irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 200 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this, rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I do not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.

Very truly and Respectfully,

JOHN BUIE, Box 141,

Store for Rent.

As will be seen from the advertisement elsewhere, the elegant store on Fayetteville street, now occupied by M. Rosenbaum & Bro., is for sale next year. It offers superior attractions as a place of business by reason of its convenience and location.

Convict Discharged.

To-day there will be discharged from the Penitentiary, Wright Bradley, colored, convicted in Carteret county, of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary Feb. 1877. He is about 20 years old, 5 feet 5 inches high and weighed when admitted 143 pounds.

The Minstrels.

The talented and versatile troupe of Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West, delighted the audience at Tucker Hall last evening. They but added to the honors they had already won, and to the people of the State the troupe are heartily recommended both as gentlemen and performers. They go hence to Greensboro.

Prof. Hartley's Readings.

Prof. J. W. Hartley will give one of his popular "Readings and Impersonations" at the Deaf and Dumb Institute this evening. It will afford an opportunity of enjoying a delightful entertainment. Some old favorites will be introduced by request, and several new selections never before given in Raleigh. The reading will begin at 7:30.

Reasonable and Reliable

Are the groceries on sale at the fully stocked store of that clever merchant, M. T. Leach, on Wilmington street. The stock has been selected with special care and great attention is paid to the requirements of the trade here. The entire concern, in all its departments, is well conducted, and customers may feel sure of getting bargains. The quality of the goods is unsurpassed.

Just the Place.

In the city there is no place where better groceries of general supplies can be found than at the well kept store of Messrs. Rand & Barbee Bros., on Martin street. Those who intend to purchase goods in that line cannot do better than to give this firm a call. Consignments of cotton are solicited and special attention will be paid to this branch of the firm's business.

R. N. Mitchell, Esq.

This first class artisan has just completed a very important piece of work for the Insane Asylum. He has finished two fifty-horse steam boilers and four large heaters and the work has been pronounced well done. Mr. Mitchell has begun work on a large steam steam boiler for Messrs. Ellington, Royster & Co., and is patronized quite generally. He has a full outfit of the most improved boiler makers' machinery, and is prepared to execute all work satisfactorily. Read his advertisement.

Good Groceries.

L. R. Wyatt, store on Wilmington street, near the market, has on hand a complete assortment of all goods in his line, which he is selling at rates bound to please the public. The excellence of the goods is unquestioned, while the prices are down to hard-pan. He also deals in cotton, which he is prepared to receive on consignment. He will be found both prompt and reliable in business transactions.

An Attractive Display.

Particular attention is directed to the attractive advertisement of Mr. J. A. Bragassa, who has recently opened a strictly first-class confectionery and fancy store on Fayetteville street. His selection of toys is admirable and varied. No better opportunity can be found to make Christmas purchases. The stock of confectioneries is choice and full lines of fruits and delicacies are kept on sale. The store will be found a pleasant place to visit, and the gentlemanly proprietor gives special attention to customers.

Emancipation Celebration.

The colored people, in mass meeting assembled, for the purpose of making preparations to celebrate the 1st of January, on Monday evening, unanimously adopted following programme:

For President—B. B. Goins.
Orator—R. B. Elliott, of S. C.
Reader of Proclamation—C. N. Hunter.
Reader of the Poem—Miss L. A. Curtis.
Chief Marshal—J. W. Butler.
Assistant—Henry Hunter.
Master of Ceremonies—O. Hunter, Jr,

A grand time is expected as a large number of colored people will be in the city. A large number of invitations will be sent out. The colored troops will participate in the parade.

John T. Raymond.

This admirable comedian appear here Saturday evening next, supported by an admirable troupe. The play to be produced is "Mulberry Sellers," whose principal character has been made almost historic by Mr. Raymond. Of this play and the troupe, the Atlanta Constitution says: It was no surprise to see the opera house crowded last night. John T. Raymond's fame is such as to attract anywhere, and the fact that we, in Atlanta, only catch a glimpse of him once in awhile made his appearance all the more welcome. When he appeared here three years ago with the fresh laurels of "Mulberry Sellers," he gave the most pleasant performance of the season, and his return marked another event of rare pleasure. Mark Twain never made a better hit than in his conception and completion of the flighty genius at whom we all laugh, but who is a type of many of those who pity his weakness while they smile at its amusing exhibitions. But the character would never have been half so well known if the book had not been dramatized, and the drama would have fallen flat had it not been its fortune to find Raymond to rush it into an enthusiastic popularity not second to that which Sothern has bestowed on "Our American Cousin." There is no comedy which one can more heartily enjoy than that witnessed last night at our opera house. Even the sad episode which is wrought into the play only stops the current of mirth until it gathers a force that resists all restraint and runs riot in the court scene where Sellers delivers his thrilling address to the jury. As to the acting of Mr. Raymond, we would scarcely know how to criticise it if we felt so disposed. We have no other conception to compare with his and we do not think of his impersonation as a conception. It has all the freshness, humor and apparent sincerity of reality, and the man in the audience of a speculative turn often catches himself indorsing the wildest schemes of the man who sees "millions" in everything he touches. The audience was in a laugh last night every time Raymond spoke. The scene at the turnip dinner was truly rich and brought out a storm of laughter.

The Streets.

In their fair weather aspect Raleigh streets are none too beautiful, but when the rain descends they take on a peculiar sort of an appearance which leaves unlucky pedestrians in unpleasant doubt as to which is water and which earth. That part of the street which erewhile bore an appearance of perfect solidity, is now become as treacherous as a quick-sand, but happily with but limited depth of evil. In other portions, which in bright days are the little hollows so productive of shipwreck to vehicles, the rain forms pools of uncertain depth and unlimited capacity for wetting one's feet. And the sidewalks on the side streets, inclined at all angles, are as slippery as ice, and parties who try to walk on them assume a variety of positions which even an inebriate can't imitate. Cannot something be done to remedy this condition of affairs? If the sidewalks can not be fully paved, cannot a strip of brick pavement, say two feet wide, be laid? The great bugbear seems to be the cost, always the cost. The benefits, the necessities, both present and future, of the matter, seem to receive no attention. The work on the streets now done is so temporary as to its character and fleeting as to its benefits, that it amounts to almost nothing. The thoroughfares of this city receive less attention than in any place of the size in the country. The reporters of the papers are daily asked to say something about the streets, but what is the use of speaking for the thousandth time of facts so patent as to need no mention. There is no question about one thing, though, and that is that some material improvement must be made, or else there will be a howl all along the line ere long.

Personals

Maj. J. A. Engelhard and Maj. F. H. Cameron returned from New Orleans yesterday.

Hon. Kemp P. Battle, President of the State University, one of the leaders in the great work of education, is in the city, and honored the News with a call yesterday.

Rev. T. S. Burkhead, D. D., Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District of the N. C. Conference, is in the city, the guest of Mr. George W Wynne. His numerous friends are pleased to see him once again.

It Will Please the Public.

Fully up with the needs of the times, and with a great appreciation of the convenience of the needs of travelers, the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company have determined from this date to run their trains through to Portsmouth, without the troublesome transfer at Weldon. This step will be appreciated and will save a vast amount of trouble to passengers. In the advertising columns will be found a notice of the change.

A Rare Musician.

Mr. Eddie Fox, who is now with the fine troupe of Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's Minstrels, may be appropriately dubbed the master of the violin. He has a command over that instrument in no wise surpassed by any of the foreign artists who shine in the musical world. His is truly home talent. The wonderful sounds he can produce from the violin are so varied and unique that it does not seem possible that they could be evoked from any instrument. One of the greatest powers of Mr. Fox is shown in his echo performance, where the violin, as it were, gives the shadow of its own sounds, both tones mingling in even rise and fall. The melody of the violin in his hands is something to be remembered. By reason of his exceeding ability Mr. Fox merits the highest praise.

The Tax Injunction.

This case continues to excite much interest among the tax payers of Wake. The News was in error yesterday, in stating that applications are to be made to the Sheriff. The Sheriff is on the other side, being the defendant. Applications are being made by large numbers of tax payers to W. H. Pace, Esq., and Col. Walter Clark, attorneys for the original plaintiffs. No persons are protected from paying except those who become parties to the suit.

Tea Plant.

In the Department of Agriculture may be seen a fine specimen of the Chinese tea plant, in full growth. It is some two feet high and vigorous, and was grown from a seed, in this city. The leaf is much larger than is generally supposed, and the branches are ornamented with numbers of green pods. The plant is in many respects curious and should be looked at.

Marriage.

At the residence of Capt. Riggan, three miles from this city, yesterday, Rev. Dr. J. B. Bobbitt united in matrimony Mr. Quint Gattis and Miss Maggie Riggan.

To Cotton Dealers.

Capt. White, Register of Deeds, in compliance with a circular sent to him by State Treasurer Worth, has notified purchasers of cotton that they are required to take out the privilege license and to pay semi-annually on their purchases of cotton, commencing with March 10, 1877, and giving in on the first days of July and January. The license costs $10 75, and runs for one year from date of issue; the tax on purchases is one tenth of one per cent. to State and same to county.

It is made the duty of the Sheriff to report the names of persons failing to take out the license and list their purchases, and it is the duty of the Register of Deeds to prosecute in such cases. Walk up and save trouble and cases.

Wine Products of New Jersey.

This state is becoming celebrated for grape culture and wine. Some of the richest port in the world is produced in New Jersey by Mr. Alfred Speer, whose name has become celebrated as a producer of strictly pure unadulterated wine. The port grape Wine of Mr. Speer was awarded the highest premium at the centennial. Not bottled or put in market until it is four years old, and has become thoroughly pure and mellow. It has proved itself a wonderful assistant to physicians, who prescribe it from the fact that they have hitherto found it difficult to obtain a pure Port Wine. This wine is recommended for debilitated persons; and is given to consumptives to use with fresh raw eggs, and as a medium for taking cod liver oil. The difficulty of getting an imported or even a pure California Port is well understood to be so great as to preclude doctors from allowing their patients to run the risk of its use. Mr. Speer being aware of this fact has taken the utmost care in the making of his wine from the ripest and finest grapes, so as to supplant the imported wines by producing a genuine article. His wines are known by chemists to be pure and the most reliable for medicinal purposes. The Druggists throughout the country sell it as bottled by Mr. Speer.—N. Y. Tribune.
